

COMMITTED TO A NEW EXISTENCE

As we are dragged uncontrollably through the endless searchings of time, our spirits are dampened and our faculties are depressed by the ever-evolving environment about us. Discouragement quietly slips into our once strong and mighty beings until we are quickly ushered towards becoming nothing more than mere defenseless juveniles. We find it very easy to be unconcerned about ourselves and our seemingly insignificant role in this world. Periods of self-pity provide an ideal locality for every doubt to thrive unrestrained in our desolate world.

Nearing self-annihilation, we become aware of an ever-pressing need to reinforce our entity and to become an instrument in the changing of life about us. However, in attempting to work toward change, we begin to encounter countless obstructions that call upon us to make a commitment to that which we hold most dear and sacred in our endeavor to alter our surroundings.

In making a commitment, we latch on to a force that is ir-respressible in nature. A force that when channeled into one persevering stream, begins to mold and shape the people and situations about us, making life for us a worthwhile venture.
In order to harness this power, we must possess a discipline and determination that accompanies a personal relationship with God. Faithfully honoring every commitment brings about a new zeal and destiny in our daily living.

Our personal, Christian, social, and school lives are bombarded by a strength that can be called upon to change our environment's ideals, appearance and general nature into something deemed worthy for human occupation. Difficulties continue to gnaw at our existence, but we as renewed believers continue forward — committed to a new existence.

COMMITTED TO EACH OTHER

Enrollment Stabilizes as Classes Begin

A sleeping campus begins to awaken as a mad flurry of people arrive to inhabit the empty dorms. "Pre-registration" having shortened the waiting lines, eases some of the tension as classrooms again are open for business.

Dormitory Priority: a Committed Majority

Living in a dorm can be a very trying and demanding experience — one that, in many ways, calls for a conscious commitment to the concerns of others. This is our priority — to live together in awareness of those around us. By being aware of each other we discover the excitement hidden in the trials of dorm life.

"... it is the experience of fear and restlessness which brings back a recurrence of the personal realization of one's humanness, and a new commitment encounter with the living God at increasingly deeper and more subtle levels of awareness about life."

Keith Miller

Freshman Week Anyone?

As each school year arrives, so does the week of activities labeled "Freshman Week." In previous years this has been a required week of participation. The activities were, then, nothing short of five days of human degradation. After a week of humbling themselves to the Seniors, the Freshmen were led one by one before an audience of delighted onlookers, and subjected to a night of humiliation known as "Rat Court."

The Seniors of last year demonstrated their concern by eliminating the notorious Rat Court. The activities of the week provided entertainment for the Freshmen instead of entertainment for the Seniors. This was well received and the week emerged as a success. The Freshmen were hailed as exemplifiers of school spirit.

This year's Freshman week attempted to follow in the footsteps of its predecessors, but did not succeed as well. Apathy reigned throughout the majority of both Freshman and Senior classes. What was once a major activity of the semester, became a fleeting memory. Only with those few who actively participated, did the week hold merit. Poor planning and lack of interest seemed to prevail. Seniors complained of disinterested Freshmen, as the Freshmen sneered at the supposed juvenility of the week.

The intent of Freshman week is to welcome the Freshman class into the student body through a week of planned activities. All those involved benefit from their participation by making new friends and creating enjoyable memories of college life. This purpose has been lost in the minds of the majority involved until it sometimes seems prestigious to rebel and not participate. Barriers have been erected and a concern to get to know and care for the new people about us has been confined. We seem to be afraid to open ourselves and enjoy the people about us. To enjoy life we must learn to give of ourselves and lose ourselves in those about us. To give and not be accepted is better than not having given.

President's Reception:

A Challenge

Welcoming the students at the beginning of semester is the reception hosted by Dr. Davenport. Students are introduced to the president and new faculty members. The evening is a night of new faces, music, and refreshments as all prepare for a year of working together.

Work was Plentiful But the Laborers were few

Building and working on a float has to be one of the coldest and hardest jobs in which anyone can get involved during the school year. So consequently, few get involved. A small number of inspired individuals band together and spend many a frustrating (but lighthearted) hour folding, stuffing, gluing, pulling, painting, (and in rare instances, sawing) their way to glory by float building.

SIB-KIS stands for: See It Big—Keep It Simple.

"A fellow says, 'What's so important about that?' I'll tell you why it's important to me—it's the opposite of my nature. My nature is to see something small and then complicate it so I can't do anything about it. I need to constantly remind myself that although I can get help from many sources, I'm on my own in this area. No one can See It Big and Keep It Simple for me.

It's tremendous to be learning that no matter how big you see things or how simple you keep them you'll never reach the ultimate. No man has ever seen things as big as they could have been seen or kept them as simple as they might be."

Charles Jones

Parade Pleasure is in the People

Soothing sunshine and glowing smiles reflected the warmth in the hearts of those who participated in the crowd and those in the procession during the Homecoming parade.

Outstanding Floats Recognized

Controversy arose over winning floats this year as opinions varied widely over "whose float was best." There was close competition between several floats making the judging extremely difficult. Winners were announced during the half-time of the Homecoming game. The results were (top) Spanish Club Float — Wonderful World of Disney, first place, (right) Sophomore Class — The Road Runner, second place, (opposite page top) Art Club — Bugs Bunny, third place, (opposite page left) Harlequins — The NBC Peacock, originality award, and Business and Economics Club — Sesame Street, conformity to the theme award.

Tigers Reveal Quality

An agonizing defeat befell the Tigers in their homecoming game as they were taken by Indiana Southwest in a seven point loss. The team rallied around during the second half, but were not completely successful in their attempt to win the game. The men demonstrated however, their ability to hang together when the game is rough.

"Everybody has been led for better or worse in everything he does all his life. Unless a person in any walk of life becomes a 'salesman' of his beliefs and actions, he will never learn much about living, because living is involvement with reality, and the deepest reality is people. We are leading others all the time, unconsciously or deliberately through our action or their recollection, in one direction or another. We are "selling" our values whenever we're with other people — child, adult, customer, salesman. Our problem is that we often don't realize what we are doing or why. All persons with right motives want to do more than exist — they want to contribute, to have a sense of importance, to be accepted by others. These goals and many others are best accomplished through the tremendous learning-to-live process."

MARTHA BROOKS

On the basis of her genuine beauty and outstanding appearance Martha was chosen as the 1973 Miss Photogenic.

Think Deeply About Concerts

Communicating through music was demonstrated this year at the college through a variety of concerts. This variety gives us opportunity to examine the quality and worth of the music about us.

Fine Arts: Art

"We become fully conscious only of what we are able to express to someone else. We may already have had a certain inner intuition about it, but it must remain vague so long as it is unformulated."

Paul Tournier

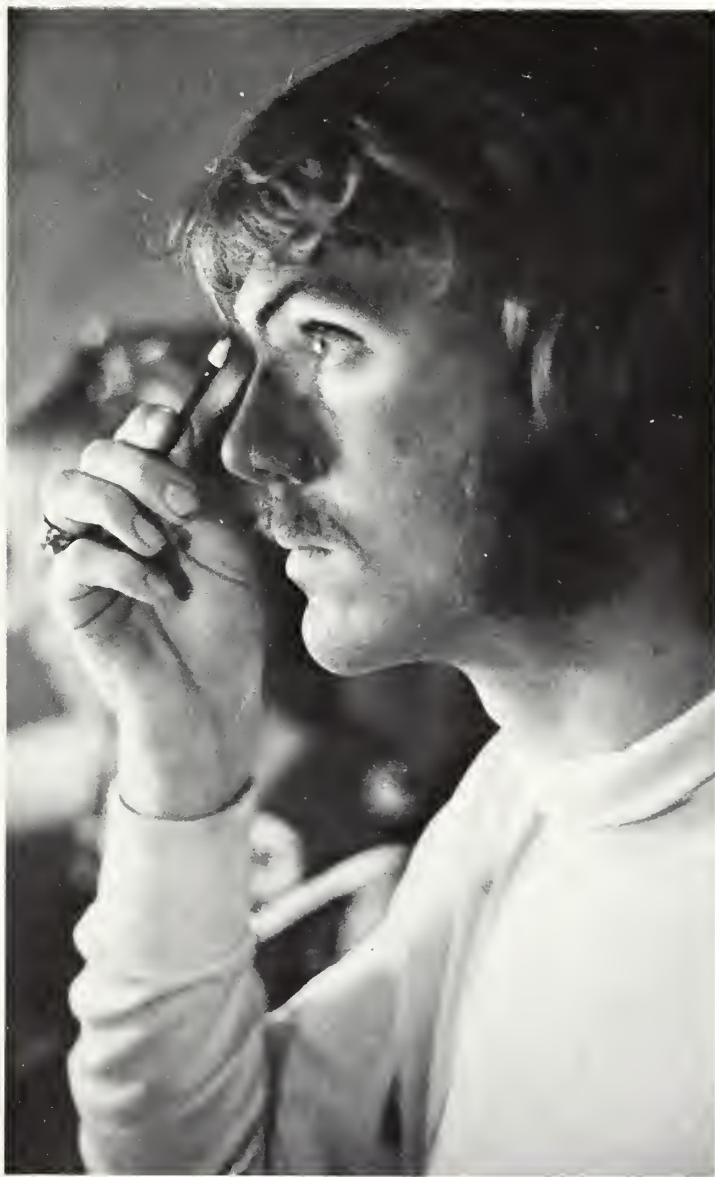

Dramatics Are On The Upsurge

Students are becoming more interested and actively involved in drama here at the college. Classes are becoming active in performance and field trips to visit other presentations have been initiated. The Harlequins presented the play, "The Fantastics." Actors realize the agony of hard work but are rewarded with gratification as the curtain falls on another successful venture.

Gratification Personified

Performance is the primary concern of the Music department. Long and grueling hours of practice are spent daily to deliver ones best when called upon. A person gets from music, what he puts into it. The decision is his.

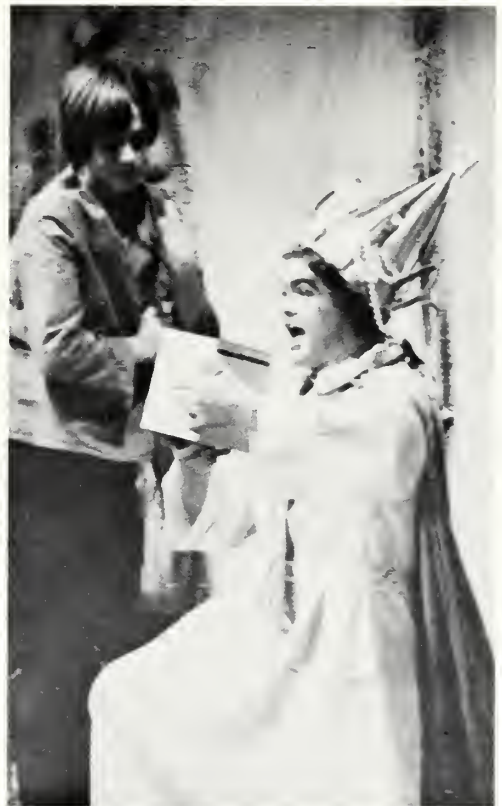

Music Department

"Amahl and the Night Visitors" proved to be a giant step for the Music Department as they presented the first opera attempt at Campbellsville College. The story of a young crippled boy miraculously healed at the time of Jesus Christ's birth was well received by the student body as they anticipated the Christmas Season.

Presents First Opera

Holiday Fullness

Even with the anticipation of exams, the students entered the Christmas season with great spirit and enthusiasm. Parties in the dorm were complete with good food, many laughs, and visits from Santa Claus. Trees were decorated; carols were sung; Christmas angels quietly left evidences of their presence, as everyone's mailboxes reflected the fullness of the Christmas spirit.

COMMITTED TO A CAUSE

An aggregation of people joined to work as one for a common cause. The clubs on campus range from active organizations to merely existing through name only. Clubs can be profitable bodies or a group of offices to pad the credentials of its members. The choice is up to its members.

Alpha Rho Tau

Alpha Rho Tau's purpose is to create an interest in and an enjoyment of art. Art exhibits and sales are held to acquaint the campus with the work of the students.

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union comprises those believers in Jesus Christ who are committed to serve Him on the campus and in the community. The year's activities have been well received and have reached out to more students than in several years past. Throughout the year weekly Bible studies, devotional breakfasts, and social activities have drawn a common bond among those who dared to get involved!

Baptist Young Women

Proud of having one of the largest BYW organizations in several years, the BYW's have been active in involving the whole campus in various mission opportunities such as the Week of Prayer for missions, and mission action projects which include visiting and aiding the elderly and conducting devotional services in local nursing homes.

Circle K

Circle K is a men's service club sponsored by the Kiwanis International, which serves on many campuses across the United States and Canada.

The purpose of Circle K is service to the campus, (painting the campus flagpole), the community and the nation. It encourages participation in group activities, promotes good fellowship, and instills scholarship.

College Republicans

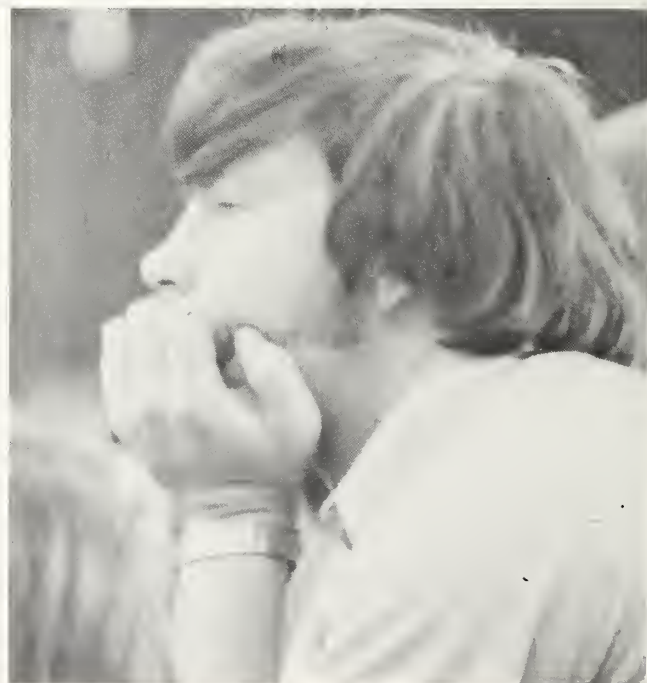

The purpose of the College Republicans is to develop the student body into an intelligent, dynamic and corporated political group with practical experience. The club is a means of encouraging participation in the activities of the Republican party and presenting the party platform in an honorable way.

Harlequins

Recognizably one of the most active groups on the campus, the Harlequins work year-round in providing excellent dramatic productions for the college. The Harlequins invite anyone who has an interest in any form of theatre to become a part of their organization.

K-Mates

K-Mates is a service organization, dedicated to the public, in promoting human relationships that will induce good will, community improvements, in encouraging higher social, business, and professional standards, patriotism, and hope for all depressed areas. K-Mates ultimate purpose is the unselfish giving and sharing of talents, time, effort, and self to every possible avenue of need in return for the rewards of achievement, improvement, and self-satisfaction. K-Mates is affiliated with the international service organization, Kiwanis Club and Circle K.

Ministerial Association

"We the Ministerial Association, believe in practicing the principles of Christianity in our daily lives, in our business transactions, and in our contact with our fellowmen.

Male students, preparing for full-time Christian service form the membership of the Association. All members are encouraged to participate in visitation programs to Nursing homes, jails, and hospitals in the area.

M.E.N.C.

In the field of music, the Music Educators National Convention has available to its members opportunities for professional development. It specializes in promoting the mastery of musical expression by vocal and/or instrumental means. It is open to every student who desires to perform significant music for instrumental ensembles and maintain a facility in music.

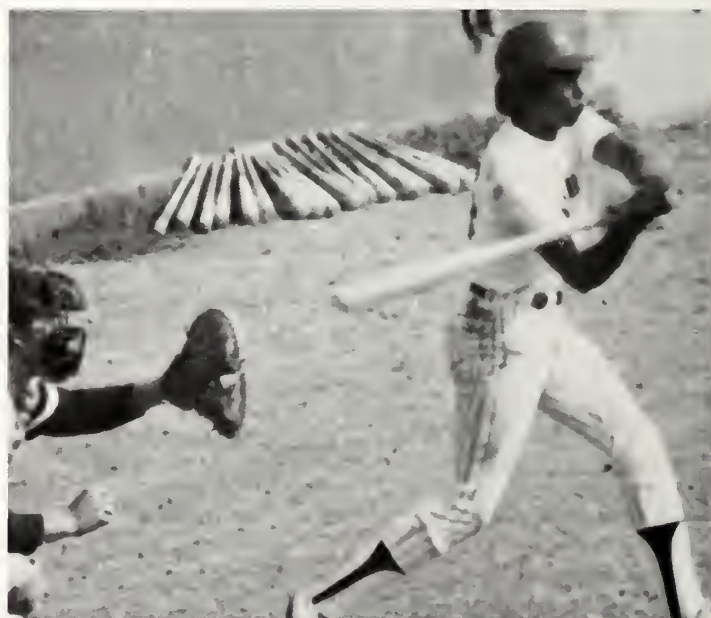

To aid in the student's development, the club brings in speakers from different areas of the field and plans to organize trips to recording studios and to music publication houses. They also promote the Community Concerts and student recitals.

P.E. Majors and Minors

The primary function of Physical Education Majors and Minors is to promote, organize, and administer a broad program of competitive and recreational activities for the voluntary participation of the entire student body. It is to confront young athletes and coaches with the challenge and adventure of intercollegiate and intramural sports.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club is designed to form better citizens of its membership. This is done by informing them of social needs and making plans to get them involved in the social problems of the community in which they live.

Membership into the Social Science Club is granted to any person, student or alumni, of Campbellsville College who is taking or has taken a concentration of Social Science Area, Major, Minor, or has an interest in the Social Science field.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club is organized with the purpose of furthering an appreciation of the Spanish language and culture, with an international understanding. Members are recruited from the Spanish language students and any other individuals who desire to learn more about the Spanish culture.

Activities include such items as an International Dinner at Christmas time, Spanish films, radio programs, Latin American symposium, participation in the Carnival Day activities, and a vivid interest in Homecoming activities. The members also work on the Spanish newspaper "Que Pasa Chiquitio?"

S.N.E.A.

The membership of the Student National Education Association is composed of students who are receiving basic preparation at the undergraduate level or graduate level for their initial teaching responsibility. It provides opportunities for students who plan to enter the field of teaching to have some experiences that are considered helpful in their preparation for their profession. It also gives those who want to explore the possibility of being teachers an opportunity to use the same experiences to determine whether or not they want to become teachers.

The purpose of this organization is to develop an understanding of and appreciation for the teaching profession and professional teacher organizations; to stimulate the highest ideals of professional ethics, attitudes and growth; in matters affecting their interests in education and the teaching program.

Students are encouraged to contribute their works. Advisors are Mrs. Curry and Dr. R. L. Doty. Serving as editors are Alice Rector and Linda Wilson. The magazine is published annually in the spring semester.

Eurestos Cora

The newest organization to the campus is Eurestos Cora (literally well-pleasing land in the eyes of God and man.)

With preservation of the environment as its goal, the club has participated in campus projects, and plan to establish the "Fred Yoder Formal Gardens."

Miss Debbie Decker

Christ for the world we sing;
The world to Christ we bring,
With joyful song;
The newborn souls, whose days,
Reclaimed from error's ways,
Inspired with hope and praise,
To Christ belong.

—Samuel Wolcott

Committing ourselves to a new existence, in all aspects of the challenge, will require a great amount of close scrutiny on the part of every individual. Our goal will demand us to separate our presence from the disorder about us in order to "find" ourselves. We then must be observant and open enough to "know" ourselves.

This task is not an easy one to accept. But as it is conquered, we, at that time, should lose ourselves in those about us, through the love of God. It is only then, that we can discover through prayer and experience, the new existence to which we aspire.

Lead me:
teach me:
for you are the God who gives me salvation.
I have no hope except in you.
Overlook my youthful sins, Oh Lord!
Look at me instead through eyes of mercy and forgiveness,
through eyes of everlasting love and kindness.
